Now, the Strongest Case Ever for Owning a TRS-80 Computer: Three New Software Packages Designed for the Legal Profession

Radio Shack now makes it easy to handle your important legal functions by computer! If your office is burdened with unfiled reports, unshelved books, unwritten letters, unmailed bills—then computerize with an affordable TRS-80 Model II and our legal applications software. Your law office will benefit from both improved efficiency and accuracy. And because we know you're an attorney — not a computer expert, our Model II system and software is designed for quick, hassle-free implementation.

Litigation Support

Now you can bring a computerized information storage and retrieval system into your office! Litigation Support from Radio Shack is a docket control system that helps you research articles, organize notes, and keep track of reports and correspondence. At a moment's notice, you can be reviewing your client's personal background, case history, and other pertinent data. And there's enough capacity to store up to 350 client records. Litigation Support also gives you the services of an "electronic" paralegal. Just enter documents associated with a case —such as a memo, letter, or conversation. Then by simply typing in a case number, topic or keyword the computer displays any matching records. Easily store up to 575 records, with each record having up to 144 characters for sources and 255 characters for description. Litigation Support also prints complete reports, and even mailing labels. Plus, with two or more disk drives and TRS-80 Model II SCRIPSIT 2.0, you can prepare “correction-free” letters and reports. Put Radio Shack’s Litigation Support software (#26-4545, $299) to work for you today!

WESTLAWTM

Now you can turn your TRS-80 Model II into a powerful "electronic" law library! Just register with WESTLAW—a vast legal information system—and attach a 1200-baud telephone modem to your Model II. Then each time you need to research a case, just place a phone call to access the resources of WESTLAW at a low hourly rate. It's that simple.

Now you can search through publications at “computer speed” to locate relevant cases quickly. Best of all, WESTLAW responds to the way a lawyer thinks. It lets you enter words describing a legal question. Then it searches through its stored synopses, headnotes, and the full text of opinions for a similar case, and displays it almost instantaneously. The synopsis tells you at a glance what the case is about, headnotes give you the points of law discussed in the case, or you can read the complete opinion. WESTLAW gives you access to the Supreme Court Reporter from 1932, the Federal Reporter and the Federal Supplement from 1954, and state cases from 1957. In addition, there's West's Topic and Key Numbers, Shepard's Citations, West's Bankruptcy Reporter, federal tax files, and the United States Code. The Radio Shack

WESTLAW package (#26-4560, $249) will rapidly change the way legal information is researched!

Time Accounting

This versatile accounting program is a must for attorneys and law firms that require a detailed analysis of the amount of time spent performing specific types of legal work. It can handle up to 14 lawyers, 1000 clients, 500 cases, 99 charge codes—such as expenses and payments—and 2950 transactions. Data entry is simple because you can work with any part of the program at any time. You can easily add, delete, change, list, and review all information on file concerning attorneys, clients, cases, and charges. This includes quickly updating charges and payments received, preparing billing worksheets, and printing statements. There's even a "statement simulation" for final adjustments before the actual statements are printed. And you can examine earnings by attorney and by individual case and client.

Even get an accurate picture of your firm's profitability through billable and non-billable time, cost of individual lawyer's time, billable and non-billable expenses, amounts billed, and amounts paid. Start supplying your clients with detailed billing statements today with Radio Shack's Time Accounting program (#26-4520, $499).
