Problem

Tax tables are not matching the customers payroll tables, particularly in Arkansas.

Solution

State taxes in computer payrolls are computed by using the computer formula given in "Payroll Management Guide, Volume II," from Commerce Clearing House, Inc., 1971. The formula is set up to compute the tax including any exemptions. Therefore, "The State Exempt" reply should be zero dollars in Arkansas. If the customer inputs the state tax tables we publish he will not have problems such as this (given he does it correctly and follows all other instructions for state tax). It will be up to the customer to insure correct tax computation if he uses other tables besides the ones we prepare for them.
